High Pressure Days.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the pressure is to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high pressure days.

"Little dabs of Powder
Little dabs of Paint
Of course will make a pale face
Look as if it aint."

But a little Rydale's Tonic
Taken twice a day,
Makes the pale cheek rosy
In wise old Nature's way.

It beats the artificial
Applied both thick and thin,
And can't be rubbed off with a rag
For it's underneath the skin.
So throw away your paint box Lass,
The paintless pink looks best,
And Rydale's Tonic never fails
When'er given a test.

Death of Mrs. Vincent.

Katherine Wilson Vincent, who died last week and whose funeral was held Wednesday, was born at Bradford, Nov. 30, 1832. She was one of a family of eight children, three of whom are still living: Thomas Wilson of Guildhall, Mrs. Selden Smith of South Lunenburg, and Mrs. D. A. Webb of Manchester, N. H. The younger and middle years of her life were spent in Manchester, where she was married to William Adna Vincent, but for the past 29 years she has been a resident of East Concord, coming here in the fall of 1878 for the benefit of Mr. Vincent's health. He lived about a year after coming. In April, 1880, she was appointed postmistress, in which capacity she served the public most faithfully till the time of her death. She was also a member of the Methodist church here, in the interest of which she was a faithful worker all her life. She leaves besides a brother and sisters, two daughters, and a large circle of friends, by whom her loss will be deeply felt. Our Grandmothers used to get a lot of old nails, place them in a vessel containing vinegar, and allow them to remain until the acetic acid in the vinegar produced an iron solution. This concoction was then taken by nearly every member of the family during the Spring and Fall and it rarely ever failed to strengthen and benefit the person taking it. The old way was good but there is a new way that is far better. Science has discovered a way to manufacture iron so that it can be dissolved in syrups and elixirs and given in definite doses. One of the best and surest ways to take iron is in Rydale's Tonic. This remedy is a combination of Iron, Quinine and Strychnine in an Orange Elixir and combined with other ingredients that make it very valuable as a blood and nerve tonic. It is without an equal for old people needing a stimulant and for weak and puny children and a sure cure for chills and malaria. The Avenue Pharmacy.
